

Rustics

Rusted metal evolves over time to create a distinctive, warm charm. Steelscape has developed a broad color palette of rustic finishes to capture this dynamic natural phenomenon. From the bright oxidized glow of Sedona rust to the duller aged tone of Natural Rust, Steelscape has an authentic rusted finish for both commercial and residential applications.

Rustic designs are ideal for both roof and wall applications and accent trim pieces such as gutters, canopies and entryways. The broad color palette enables this family to suit any environment from the washed out colors of the desert to the dense greens of the Pacific North West. Rustic prints pair exceptionally well with contrasting materials and colors – rustic print roofs complement wood siding and pair well with contrasting dark roof colors such as tile or asphalt.

Rustic prints can be used in a broad range of products from standing seam roofing to flat metal wall panels. These prints when used in conjunction with corrugated roof and wall profile designs add additional surface texture and authentic rustic flair. Due to the versatility of these prints they can be used to inspire homeowners, commercial designers, roofers and do-it-yourselfers alike.

Rust typically comes with the detractors of unsightly rust wash off and compromised long-term performance. The Steelscape Rustic series offers none of these detractors and is supported by cool reflective energy saving paint technology and extensive finish warranties of up to 30 years.
